Title: Project on A/B Testing, Item-Level Order and View Binary Check

Author: Xi Sun

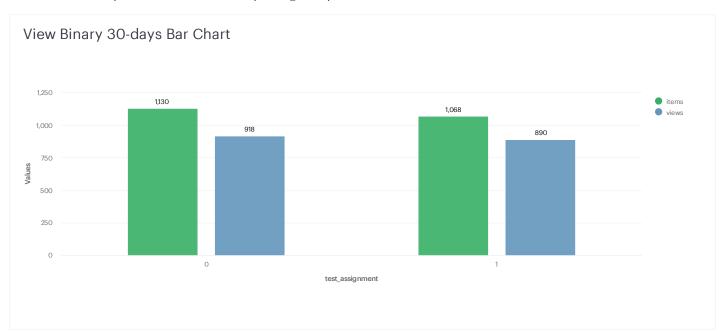

Question 5: Compute the Lifts and P-value

For the 30-day order binary, the lifts is only 1% with a high p-value 0.86. Therefore, there is no statistical significant based on result.

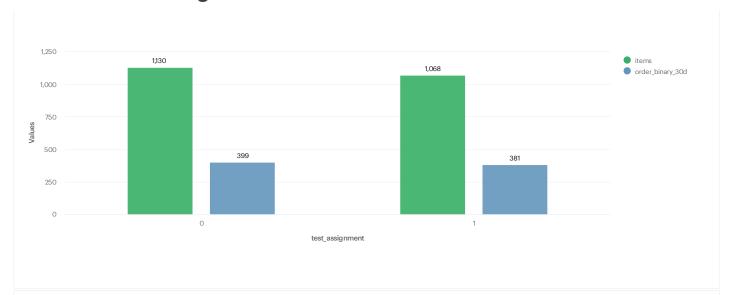

For the 30-day view binary, the lifts is 2.6% with p-value 0.2. Although the p-value in this case is smaller than the order binary, however, it is still not considered as statistical significant since we are using a 95% confidence interval, and the result is statistical significant only if the p-value is less than or equals to 0.05.

Question 1: Data Quality Check

There is no evidence saying either test a through f is the metric for 30-day view_binary. Thus, we need to know the test_start_date, also the date that a view event happens. Therefore, this table does not have everything needed to compute metrics like 30-day view_binary.
